It is a remarkable fact - as remarkable as the world-wide acceptance of the rule of law and the universal application of the juridical concept of corporateness - that the law of international trade\(^1\) shows a striking similarity in all national legal systems.

\(^1\)For a definition of the law of international trade See Boka, p. 228, post.

Referring Principles:

- X.1 - Foreign corporate entities